EMPLOYEE CONDUCT

RESPONSIBILITIES

Staff members have a special responsibility to:

- Maintain the principles of the ALA Library Bill of Rights and the ALA Code of Ethics, the Freedom to Read and Freedom to View statements.
- Understand and carry out the established policies and procedures of the Kling Memorial Library and to express in a positive manner, directed toward appropriate channels, any concern with or objection to policies, philosophies, or programs.
- Protect the confidential relationship that exists between a library user and the library.
- Maintain an objective and open attitude of understanding, courtesy, and concern for the patrons' needs.
- Serve all patrons equally according to their needs.
- Make the resources and services of the library known and easily accessible to current and potential users.
- Be aware of the obligations of employment and of what constitutes abuse of working conditions and benefits
- Acknowledge the importance of the work done by all staff and maintain a sense of loyalty to, and cooperation with, other staff members.
- Carry out assignments so that other staff members need not assume added responsibilities, except in times of emergency.
- Share Knowledge and expertise with others.
- Represent the library in the community and elsewhere, and promote library services when appropriate.

DRESS CODE

The objective of the Kling Memorial Library in establishing a business casual dress code is to allow our employees to work comfortably in the workplace. Yet we need our employees to project a professional image for our patrons. Business casual dress is the standard for this dress code.

Because all casual clothing is not suitable for the library, these guidelines will help you determine what is appropriate to wear to work. Clothing that works well for the beach, yard work, exercise sessions, such as worn blue jeans or yoga pants, are not appropriate for a professional appearance at work. Clothing that reveals cleavage, your stomach or your underwear is not appropriate for a place of business.

In a business casual work environment, clothing should be pressed and never wrinkled. Torn, dirty, or frayed clothing is unacceptable. Any clothing that has words, terms, or pictures that may be offensive to our patrons is unacceptable. Fashion brand names on clothing are generally acceptable.

No dress code can cover all contingencies, so employees are expected to exert good judgement in their choice of clothing to wear to work. If you are uncertain about the acceptable business casual attire for the library, please consult with the Library Director or Assistant Director. If clothing fails to fit the business casual standard, as determined by the Library Director or Assistant Director, the employee will be asked not to wear the inappropriate attire to work again. If the problem persists, the employee will be sent home to change and disciplinary action may be taken.

Certain days can be declared dress down days. On these days, jeans and other casual clothing may be allowed, such as Saturdays, work days and program days for the summer reading program as determined by the Library Director.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

Any concerns or disagreements among the library staff shall be resolved quickly and informally, if possible. If a problem cannot be satisfactorily resolved, all parties involved shall meet with the Board of Trustees to review the situation. The decision to settle a dispute shall be final.
