National Library Week 2018

National Library Week is dedicated to the hard work of library professionals in all fields of librarianship. This year's theme is Libraries Lead. The Friends of the Library will be serving cookies throughout the week. We encourage you to stop in and share with us what things the library has led you to discover. You can follow along with the action through social media using #NationalLibraryWeek & #LibrariesTransform or stop by the library to use our SnapChat geofilter!

Author Linda McCann to Visit KML

Iowa history author Linda McCann will be at the Library April 19th at 10:30AM speaking on her book Prohibition in Eastern Iowa. The book "looks at the 13 year span of time known popularly as "Prohibition" through the lens of Eastern Iowa townspeople and others." Linda will share her insights into the topic along with the stories she gathered in her research. This program is free to the public and no registration is required to attend.

The Scam Plan

As our technology becomes more advanced so do the attacks from cyber criminals looking to make an easy buck or take advantage of people unwitting of their schemes. Not to fear, we are here to help you identify and protect yourself from these attacks. Al Perales from the Iowa Attorney General's Office will be here, April 20th at 10:00 AM, to share with us the most recent telephone and internet scams being perpetrated in the state of Iowa.

The Sky's the Limit

The Kling Memorial Library will have a special exhibit on display throughout the month of April. Jesse Lamp of Grundy Center has a passion for kites and is sharing that passion & his kite creations with us at the Library! Stop by to check out this unique and whimsical display.
